Rotating in Medical/Surgical; ER, etc.

A contractual or probationary period can be mentioned in this section provided that such employment is recognized as full-time employment by the hospital and a reference check form and a verification of service form can be supplied to verify this.

Otherwise, that employment should not be mentioned in this section.

OVERSEAS NURSING EXPERIENCE: If you have worked as a nurse overseas, you will need to show that you had a valid license to practice in that host country.

Gaps in Employment

Please list all gaps in employment here:

All non-hospital work experience be stated as follows, for example:
"21 March 2012 to 30 May 2013 Worked in the ABC call center". No period of time can be left unexplained.

For example, "21 June 2014 to 15 August 2014 - stayed at home to look after my sick grandmother".

Note:

This section must include the gap between the date of graduation and your first nursing job (volunteer, contractual, probationary).

Gaps between employments should also be placed here.

This section should also include nursing volunteer work which was not full-time.

This section should also include all non-nursing employment experiences.

This section should also include any periods of nurse training.

For example:

March 2011 - September 2011: Accepted a volunteer post at St. Luke's Hospital.
January - February 2011: Applied to various hospitals. While waiting, I attended various training seminars.

March - December 2010: Reviewed and Passed the Nurse Licensure examination; then registered with the PRC.
